

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, January 30. 1705.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated Jan. 30.

Constantinople, November 16.

THE 11th of this Month, the Grand Signior return'd hither with all his Court from Adrianople. In the Neighbourhood of which Place he had spent some time in Hunting. His Highness, at the Intercession of the Ministers of the Christian Princes, has remitted the Sums which the Catholics in Jerusalem and other Places of Palestine were oblig'd to pay annually; and has impos'd a Tax of 1500 Purfes of 500 Crowns each on the Jews dwelling in his Dominions. The Grand Vizier has sent Order to the Serafquier of Natolia, to march into Bulgaria with an Army of 12000 Men, to reduce the Rebels that are got together in the Mountains of Eschababa. The 14th instant, the Janisaries and Spahies quarter'd in this City were paid their Arrears. The Captain Bashaw, who, after having put 100 Pieces of Cannon, with Stores of Ammunition and Provisions, and several thousand Men into the 2 Castles built at the Mouth of the Straight of Kerky in the Black Sea, without meeting the least Opposition from the Muscovites, was come with the Gallies he commands to the Port of Heraclia; receiv'd the News there of the Promotion of his most intimate Friend to the Dignity of Grand Vizier, and immediately dispatch'd an Express to congratulate him. Not long after, he set sail from thence to return hither, but in the Voyage was surpriz'd with a terrible Storm, in which he narrowly escap'd perishing; but had the good Fortune to get safe into a small Port with 9 of his Gallies; 9 other Gallies of his Fleet, that endeavour'd to run into another Harbour, were driven upon Rocks and split in pieces, not a Soul of their Crews escaping. The said Captain Bashaw is made Bashaw of Sidon, and the Sultan's Master of the Horse succeeds him in the Command of the Fleet. We have Advice from several Places, that throughout Persia great Preparations of War are making, but for what Expedition is yet a Secret.

From the Leiden Courant, dated Feb. 4.

Constantinople, Dec. 20. Orders are given for building and equipping new Gallies to supply the Loss of those that perish'd lately in the Black Sea: And a new Admiral or Captain Bashaw is appointed to command the Fleet.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Feb. 3.

Lemberg, Jan. 7. The Plague with which we were lately visited, has at length thanks be to God left us, so that those Inhabitants who retir'd out of this City have begun to return agen. Not one Person has died here of the Plague since the end of last Month to this day.

Poznan, Jan. 9. King Stanislaus arriv'd here the 2d of this Month, attended by 200 Swedish Horse; and the next day pursued his Journey to Prussia. There are but 100 Swedes garrison'd in this Place, because of the Scarcity of Provisions. The Emperor's Envoy, who went to the King of Sweden at Rawitz, is, 'tis said, gone from thence without having had Audience of him, greatly dissatisfied.

Warsaw, Jan. 16. We have advice from Vilna, that 15000 Men with 25 Pieces of Cannon are arriv'd there from Muscovy: Part of which are to march towards Brzese. The Advices from Cracow of the 10th inform us, that the Council of Senators that is to sit there to do Business when King Augustus returns, is adjourn'd to the 5th of February, by which Time his Majesty is expected. The Ambassador of Muscovy is expected to repair to the said Council, to ratify the Treaties lately concluded between his said Polish Majesty and the Czar of Muscovy.

Warsaw, Jan. 20. We have confirm'd Advice from Lithuania, that the Number of the Muscovite Troops increases daily in that Dutchy; insomuch that part of the Nobility have sent to desire King Augustus to take some Care that that Country may not be utterly wasted by the great Number of Forces of that hardly civiliz'd Nation. We have receiv'd Advice, that King Stanislaus is gone to Elbing, whither the Queen his Wife is to come to him from Coningsberg,

From the Harlam Courant, dated Feb. 3.

Dresden, Jan. 23. Yesterday the King of Poland, our Elector, arriv'd here from Leipzick: 'Tis doubtful yet, whether his Majesty will be at Cracow by the 5th of February, to be present in the great Council that is to be open'd there that day. 'Tis talk'd a Treaty of Peace is in Hand; but if it come to nothing, the King will have the ensuing Campaign 10000 Men Saxon Foot: Most of the Saxon Horse are in Poland; the rest with 7000 Muscovites are quarter'd in our Electorate. Commissions are given out for raising 4 new Regiments of Grenadiers.

Berlin, Jan. 24. We have Advice from Saxony, that there are great Hopes at present of a speedy Peace in Poland; and some pretend to know that 4 Ministers to negotiate that Peace are nominated on the Part of the King of Sweden, viz. the Heers Rosenhal, Lieftenheim, Lagerstroom, and Fretendorf. 'Tis said the Swedes propose that Stanislaus be made King of Lithuania, that Augustus remain King of Poland, and that those two Crowns be united in the longest Liver of the two. Time will shew whether there be any Foundation for these Reports.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Feb. 3.

Hambourg, Jan. 27. Letters from Poland tell us, King Stanislaus is arriv'd at Elbing, and that the Cardinal Primate will repair thither from Dantzick to confer with him. General Meyerfeld is marching with a Body of Swedes, to reinforce the Troops that are in Lithuania, in order to make Head against the Muscovites. They write from Memel, that General Oginski has been oblig'd to retire from the Neighbourhood of Polangen on the Approach of the Swedes.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Feb. 3.

Hambourg, Jan. 29. Letters from Poland say positively, that 40000 Muscovites are arriv'd in Lithuania, under the Command of the Generals Reprin, Czeremet, Sculp, and Ren; and that part of them are are mov'd near to the Frontier of Prussia, which does not a little alarm the Swedes.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated Jan. 30.

Montpellier, Jan. 15. The Estates of the lower Languedoc continue their Session here, and 'tis thought will not break up before the end of this Month. Boudon, a Leader of the Camisars, has surrendred himself with 4 of his Followers arm'd, to Monsieur de la Haye Governour of St. Hippolyte. There remains to be reduc'd only Claris and his Parry; who 'tis thought will soon submit likewise. Three Weeks ago a written Paper was found publickly affix'd in the Town of Vezenobre, importing, that la Combe who Mediated the Accomodation between the Marshal de Villars and Cavalier should be kill'd, and also the Parish Priest of Vezenobre; the first for Breach of Faith and deserting his Brethren, the other for his indiscreet Zeal. La Combe fearing those who affix'd that Paper would be as good as their Word, retir'd for safety to this City; but the Parson stay'd in Vezenobre, putting his Confidence in 4 Companies of the Regiment of Charolois that are quarter'd there: But it being an open Place, 2 or 3 desperate Fellows broke into the Parson's House in the Night time, shot him with Pistols in the Face and in the Belly, and believing him dead, left him and got clear off, taking with them out of the House the value of 50 Crowns. But he will recover of his Wounds; his Vitals not being touch'd.

Dublin, Jan. 22d. On the 18th Instant came into Kingfale the London Galley of and for London, burthen 200 Tuns, Bart. Brown Commander, laden with Silk, Fruit and Oyl from Leghorne, but lost from Gibraltar, in 24 days. The Captain reports, that while he was in that Bay, great Firing was made both by the Besiegers and Besieged of Gibraltar; and that Sir John Leake with his Squadron is gone out of the Bay to Lisbon, having left only her Majesty's Ships the Lark and Garland in the Bay. We have Advice from Beer-Haven, that one of her Majesty's Ships of War has taken a French Man of War of 30 Guns and 150 Men; of which 30 were kill'd in the Action.
